It should be evident from the material in this report that Johnson Bible College is integrally connected to the church of Christ.

Our purpose is to prepare servant leaders for the church. This was the mission that gave rise to the school in 1893 and is the mission that drives our institution today.

Our students come from the church. Congregations served by our alumni, congregations in our geographic area, and even some congregations from abroad send men and women here for preparation for leadership ministry.

Our faculty and staff are committed to the church. Of course, we employ persons who not only are members of the church, but who serve the church in a variety of ministries. They speak not merely from an academic perspective about ministry, but from their own personal experience as well.

Our support comes from the church. Congregations and individual members in congregations entrust their resources to us to accomplish the mission that we have set forth.

In this report you can see the multitude of ways that the connection to the churches—to you—is entwined in the warp and woof of our existence.

Cordially,

Gary E. Weedman
President

Statement of Purpose

Mission

The purpose of Johnson Bible College is to educate students for specialized Christian ministries with emphasis on the preaching ministry. Christian ministry requires that students have a Christian worldview, understanding themselves as well as the Word of God and the world of people. The College stresses holistic education including spiritual, intellectual, professional, social, and physical development.

Vision

At Johnson Bible College, our vision is to bring glory to God and hope to the world by preparing promising students for excellence in Christian ministry through an affordable, community-oriented, and Christ-centered education.

Core Values

The lordship of Christ and the authority of Scripture
The centrality of ministry and the priority of preaching
The necessity of faith, the efficacy of prayer, and the value of work
The importance of affordability and the worth of a nurturing community
The imperative of a Christian lifestyle and the virtue of academic discipline
The validity of the Restoration Plea and the significance of the JBC heritage

Academic Accomplishments and Goals

Academic Accomplishments

We made curriculum changes in the education, media, preaching, and music programs. A new four-year preschool and kindergarten degree will lead to licensure in early childhood education. Changes in the preaching and the youth ministry curriculums include dividing the pastoral ministry course into courses specific to youth ministry and preaching ministry. Media Communications is now available in four tracks to give students more curricular choices. Changes in the music curriculum provide students with more technical training in media and allow them to tailor more of the curriculum to their ministry preparation or graduate school entrance needs.

Eubanks Fellowship: In honor of retiring President Eubanks, the trustees have funded the Eubanks Fellowship. This program provides support for practicing Christian leaders to come on campus for extended periods of time and to interact with our students in a variety of ways that will better prepare them for ministry. Depending on the length and nature of the visit, the “Eubanks Fellow” might offer seminars, workshops, colloquia, sermon series, lecture series, classroom lectures, courses, or other types of presentations. By participating in the life of the campus, the Eubanks Fellow would also enrich the lives of the student through informal interaction. Normally, each Fellow would follow this pattern: (1) make formal presentations to the students based on credentials and abilities of the Fellow; (2) interact informally with the students; (3) advance some personal goal for the good of the Church. Among the Eubanks Fellows might be preachers on sabbatical from churches of all sizes, missionaries on leave, scholars on loan from other institutions, writers in residence, cross-cultural workers, parachurch workers, church planters, and others. Eubanks Fellows might also be representatives of different ethnic groups or be brought in from different countries. Anyone interested in applying for a Eubanks Fellowship should email or write to Dr. Richard Beam requesting an application (rbeam@jbc.edu).

Goals mentioned in the last report were: (1) to continue our Quality Enhancement Plan to improve teaching and learning by matching teaching and student evaluation methods with student learning objectives (on schedule to be completed in 2010), (2) expand our Media Communications Program to include four tracks (completed), and (3) continue the development of the Eubanks Institute for Missions (up and running).

Major Academic Goals

Successfully host our first Eubanks Fellows.

Continue to progress toward the goal of our Quality Enhancement Plan with a successful interim assessment.

Complete work on the strategic plan related to capstone courses.

Student Involvement Beyond the Classroom

Mission Activities

Missions Emphasis Week: 123 students committed to serve in cross-cultural missions work for at least one year. Rebekah Hannum addressed the theme: God's Global Community. Rebekah formerly served in Venezuela with Team Expansion.

National Missionary Convention (Indianapolis, Indiana): 190 JBC students attended, the largest group of college students at the convention.

International Harvesters: a student mission interest group averaged 40 students in weekly meetings. We had many visiting missionaries speak to the group.

Chapel Offerings: $21,000 collected over two semesters will be divided between Tara Clark (New Missions Systems International in Florida), Nick and Christal Haner (Team Expansion in Poland), Jennifer Hill (Team Expansion, Mobilization, in Louisville, Kentucky) and Kevin and Emily Ennis (Pioneer Bible Translators in Siberia, Russia). All 6 are recent JBC graduates. Portions will also help support a well drilling project in Ghana, overseen by the Charlie Budd family and the Crossings church plant in Knoxville led by JBC alumni.

Week of Evangelism: 42 students shared God's love through preaching, teaching, evangelism, singing, and work projects in Poland, Guatemala (two groups), Kenya, Dallas, Texas, New York City, New York, and Slidell, Louisiana.

Internships and Short Term Mission Trips

During the summer of 2006, 41 students completed cross-cultural mission internships or mission trips. During the summer of 2007, 14 students will complete cross-cultural internships and 26 students will complete mission trips in 14 countries: Brazil, China, Dominican Republic, England, India, Jamaica, Japan, Moldova, Myanmar, Tanzania, Thailand, Ukraine, Zimbabwe, and Manhattan Island, New York City, New York.

Local Outreach

Cross-cultural: 45 students participated regularly in ministries to other ethnic groups (primarily Asian, Russian speakers and Hispanic) in the Knoxville area.

Inner city: 55 students helped in school programs for children and homeless ministries in downtown Knoxville.

Associate Degree in Bible and Missions

The Associates degree has created interest among current students with five graduating in May. These students went on to pursue additional academic studies or vocational training with the intent to enter countries which are closed to traditional mission work. Also, two students completed the one year Bible and Missions Certificate.

Eubanks Institute of Missions (EIM) Consultation

The first major event for EIM was a consultation of Christian Church/Church of Christ Mission Organization Presidents in March. Presidents of nine organizations participated by presenting seminars on topics related to their specific ministries. JBC students benefited greatly from participating in the seminars and visiting with these key missions leaders. NOTE: Consult Dr. Gerald Mattingly, PhD, for more news about the EIM.

Faculty Changes

We have added one full-time faculty member and five adjuncts for 2007-2008.

Sean Ridge is a graduate of Bluffton University (BA) in Ohio with a Master of Marriage and Family Therapy from Abilene University. He is completing his dissertation for his Ph.D. in Family Therapy from Texas Women's University. Sean was a faculty member at Bluffton University in Ohio, where he taught counseling before coming to Johnson. He was also employed as a clinical therapist by the Directions Counseling Group in Worthington, Ohio. As an assistant professor in the counseling area, Sean will work in our graduate Marriage and Family Therapy/Professional Counseling Program and teach a marriage and family class. Sean and Beth Ridge have three children: Ethan, Charis, and Levi, ages 7, 4, and 1 respectively. He comes with excellent references, and we believe he will be an outstanding addition to our faculty.

Susan Calderon is a graduate of Johnson Bible College (BA), and the University of Tennessee (RN). She served as a missionary to Mexico from 1975-2002. She has taught at International Christian College of Manila and Collegio Biblico. She has translated 10 books, a filmstrip series, and numerous articles from English to Spanish. She has made presentations at the National Missionary Convention and North American Christian Convention where she has also served on the continuation committee. Susan will be an adjunct lecturer in Spanish.

Elaine Denman earned a D. Min. and M.Div. from Regent University in Virginia, the M.A. degree from Lincoln Christian Seminary, and the B.A. degree from Harding University in Arkansas. Elaine has experience as a group counselor. She conducts seminars and retreats nationally and internationally. She created the Ross Road Counseling Center in Memphis, Tennessee, and the Providence Road Counseling Center in Chesapeake, Virginia. She has been an adjunct instructor for Lipscomb University and Harding University Graduate School of Religion. Elaine will teach a graduate marriage and family therapy course.

Tony Krug earned a Ph.D. from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and the B.A. and M.L.S. degrees from Indiana State University. He has broad experience in learning resources and educational technology including positions at Wabash Valley College, Illinois; Maryville University, Missouri; Bethany College, West Virginia; and Carson-Newman College, Tennessee. Most recently, he served as the Director of Bowen Central Library of Appalachia, Appalachian College Association, Kentucky. As an adjunct professor, Tony will teach graduate educational technology courses.

Jason Mead is a Ph.D. student in the department of history at the University of Tennessee. He earned his M.A. from the University of Tennessee, his M.Div. from Emmanuel School of Religion, and his B.A. from Milligan College. He has taught as a teaching assistant at Emmanuel, an adjunct at Milligan, a lecturer at King College, and is currently a teaching assistant at the University of Tennessee. From 2000-2005 he served first as associate and then as senior minister at the First Christian Church of Bluff City. Jason will be an adjunct lecturer in church history.

Ann Tuggle grew up in the Lonsdale Christian Church under the ministry of Dr. Black. She holds the B.A. degree from Carson-Newman College and the M.A. plus 45 hours from the University of Tennessee. She has 45 years of experience in Knox County Schools, 27 in teaching and 16 in administration. For the last several years, prior to her retirement, she worked in the Sarah Simpson Staff Development Center helping with teachers throughout Knox County. She also trained principals in the use of an evaluation framework that she will be using to evaluate our post baccalaureate student teachers. Ann will visit our student teachers weekly and work with them and their cooperating teachers to improve their skills.

Encouragement

Your faithfulness encourages everyone who values the ministry of Johnson Bible College.

Thank you for praying. James wrote, “The prayer of a person living right with God is something powerful to be reckoned with.” (James 5:16b, Msg.) Please offer powerful prayers of intercession for our shared ministry.

- Pray that each student will assimilate into the College community, find purpose and vision that honors God, and receive the full benefit of the excellent education offered here.
- Pray that God will move in the hearts of His children to seek a Christian education from which they may serve all God’s children (those who love Him and those who do not yet understand His grace) as Christian educators, teachers of English to speakers of other languages, counselors, day-care workers, and missionaries, in addition to a host of more traditional church-based ministries.
- Pray for our faculty, administrators, and staff that each one, being sensitive to God’s leadership, will serve, educate, and mentor the students toward maturity in Christ and preparation for their area of ministry.
- Pray that God will move in the hearts of existing and new friends to complete the Above Every Other Desire capital campaign which provides the Bob Russell Preaching Center, preaching scholarships, and the Gally Commons Dining Facility.

Thank you for recommending JBC to prospective students. The recommendation from alumni, youth ministers, and friends remains the primary influence motivating prospective students to consider JBC for their undergraduate and post graduate education. Plant seeds in the minds of children. Encourage teens to consider a Christian education. Mention JBC as an option when conversing with adults who want to change careers or to use a professional career in ministry.

Thank you for giving. Churches are the major source of gifts to the general fund. The cost of operation continues to escalate. Your generous contributions help cover those costs. Your contributions also help to close the gap between the amount JBC charges a student for their education and the amount it actually costs JBC to provide the education – usually an additional amount around $4500 per student, per academic year. If the gap exceeds the amount our general and permanent scholarship funds can provide, the difference is made up from the general funds. It will be greatly appreciated if your church will increase support for the coming year.
